

The mr daydream story

By calum stretton

Chapter 1 The school

Mr daydream was always daydreaming but the thing that made him daydream the most was school(work) and homework and today was mr daydreams 3rd week of school. Daydream liked playing imagine with his friends mr clever and mr bump but he didn't like to work. He didn't like much subjects just P.E. and W.A.U other than that there was almost no subjects he liked because he always got distracted but today was the day he got most distracted because today was math test day.

Chapter 2 The Test

Mr daydream was nervous for his test he thought he was going to daydream during the test and fail. "Alright everyone it's time for the test!" said mr teacher as he handed out the tests"okay everyone start!" As they started mr daydream tried really hard not to start daydreaming he tried and tried and ended up concentrating so much he didn't even realise he had finished the test he was so happy he jumped up and shouted "hurray!!

Chapter 3 home time

Mr daydream was so happy when he finished he wanted to tell his mum but first he had to go outside. When he came back in the teacher had calculated the results and had handed out the papers. Mr daydream was so excited to see what he had got so he went to his table sat down and an A! He had got an A! As soon as school ended he rushed to his mum and he even got some sweets as a prize.
